Applicant's arguments filed 11-14-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Rejections under 35 USC 102 over WO 00/15684 and the KURTH documents are withdrawn upon further consideration. The obviousness-type double patenting rejections are withdrawn in light of applicants' properly filed Terminal Disclaimers.

The following rejections are maintained:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 36-37, 40-62, and 76-82 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Croft (5,688,860).

Croft discloses polymer materials comprising the reaction product of isocyanates, isocyanate reactive materials, catalysts, plasticizers, extenders/crosslinkers, and other materials reading on the products as claimed (see column 10 line 60 – column 12 line

Art Unit: 1711

40, as well as, the entire document). Distinction between the various reactive materials employed in the making of the isocyanate reactive component are not evident in the claims nor are distinctions between final products evident by limitation in the claim. Distinction of applicants' invention based on the oils being blown is not seen to be evident, as distinction based on such in the final resulting product is not seen to be evident. Additionally, the materials and reactants as well as intermediates employed in the making of the products are seen to read on esterification to the degree defined by the claims such that claims to products containing such recitations are not seen to distinguish over the teachings of Croft.

Applicants' arguments have been considered, but rejections are maintained for the reasons set forth above. It is maintained that the evidence of record has not factually established distinction of the final product as claimed. Applicants' affidavit has been considered. However, affidavits or declarations must set forth facts, not merely opinions or conclusions: In re Pike et al., 1950 C.D. 105, 84 USPQ 235. Otherwise the affidavits or declarations have no probative value.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
